EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR RESIGNING

HARRODSBURG, KY----The Executive Director of Harrodsburg First has submitted her resignation to the board of directors. The Board of Directors plans to begin searching for a new director immediately.

Sarah Jackson has been the director of Harrodsburg First for three years. During her time at Harrodsburg First she completed the Diamond Point Revitalization Project, oversaw the fundraising efforts during the Harrodsburg First Elegant Affair (February 2006), began downtown decorating contests for Halloween, Christmas, and Fair Week, received a façade grant for downtown building owners (December 2007), and assisted in the process of obtaining Historic District Signage for the community. She continued to have successful Cruise Ins, Motorcycle Meets, and Concerts at Olde Towne Park during the summer months. The Night of the Great Pumpkin (Halloween Event) also continued to bring many people downtown as a successful community event. She was an active volunteer during the Fort Harrod Beef Festival and assisted the Harrodsburg Christmas Committee during the annual Christmas Parade. Jackson will continue to work during the hiring process and until the middle of July.

“It has been a pleasure to work in my hometown during the past few years,” said Jackson. “I have thoroughly enjoyed my time at Harrodsburg First and have enjoyed working with others to better our community. I was fortunate to have a great board of directors to help me in all my endeavors.”

The Board plans to advertise for the opening in local newspapers, on their website, and through the State Main Street list serve. Qualified applicants should send a cover letter and resume to Harrodsburg First (P.O. Box 362) or via email at harrodsburgfirst@bellsouth.net.
